6. Information Sharing and Disclosure

Depending on usage, we may share certain data about you with our business partners, analytics and data enrichment providers, your social media providers, companies helping us run promotions and surveys, and advertising companies who help us promote our Services. We may also share your data as needed for security, legal compliance, or as part of a corporate restructuring. Lastly, we can share data in other ways if it is aggregated or de-identified or with your consent. We may share your data with third parties under the following circumstances or as otherwise described in this Privacy Policy:

- a) With Service Providers, Contractors, and Agents: We share your data with third party companies who perform services on our behalf, like data analysis, marketing and advertising services (including retargeted advertising), email and hosting services. These service providers may access your personal data and are required to use it solely as we direct, to provide our requested service.
- b) With Business Partners: We have agreements with other websites and platforms to distribute our Services and drive traffic to The Company.
- c) With Analytics and Data Enrichment Services: As part of our use of third party analytics, we share certain contact information and data or de-identified data as needed. De-identified data means data where we have removed things like your name and email address and replaced it with a token ID. This allows these providers to provide analytics services or match your data with publicly-available database information (including contact and social information from other sources). We do this to communicate with you in a more effective and customized manner.

- d) To Administer Promotions and Surveys: we may share your data as necessary to administer, market, or sponsor promotions and surveys you choose to participate in, as required by applicable law, or in accordance with the rules of the promotion or survey.
- e) For Advertising: We may use and share certain Data with third party advertisers and networks to show general demographic and preference information among our users
- f) For Security and Legal Compliance: We may disclose your data to third parties in good faith if we believe that the disclosure is: Permitted or required by law; Requested as part of a judicial, governmental, or legal inquiry, order, or proceeding; Reasonably necessary as part of a valid subpoena, warrant, or other legally-valid request; reasonably necessary to enforce our Terms of Service, Privacy Policy, and other legal agreements; required to detect, prevent, or address fraud, abuse, misuse, potential violations of law (or rule or regulation), or security or technical issues; or Reasonably necessary in our discretion to protect against imminent harm to the rights, property, or safety of The Company, our users, employees, members of the public, or our Services and to our auditors and legal advisors in order to assess our disclosure obligations and rights under this Privacy Policy.
- g) During a Change in Control: If the Company undergoes a business transaction like a merger, acquisition, corporate divestiture, or dissolution (including bankruptcy), or a sale of all or some of its assets, we may share, disclose, or transfer all of your data to the successor organization during such transition or in contemplation of a transition (including during due diligence).
- h) After Aggregation/De-identification: We can disclose or use aggregate or de-identified data for any purpose.
- i) With Your Permission: With your consent, we may share data to third parties outside the scope of this Privacy Policy.

7. Rights of users

Subject to applicable laws, a user has the following rights;

- a) The right to be informed of the use to which their personal data is to be put;
- b) The right to access their personal data;
- c) The right to object to the processing of all or part of their personal data;
- d) The right to correction of inaccurate or incomplete data;
- e) Right to object and withdraw your consent to processing of your personal data except where required by law.
- f) The right to deletion of false or misleading data about them.

8. Data Retention

The Company retains personal data, as necessary, for the duration of the relevant business relationship. We may also retain personal data for longer than the duration of the business relationship should we need to retain it to protect ourselves against legal claims, use it for analysis or historical record-keeping, or comply with our information management policies and schedules. If you request that we delete your personal data, The Company will make reasonable attempts to delete all instances of the information in their entirety. For requests for access, corrections, or deletion, please refer to the “Your Rights” section of this Privacy Policy.

9. Security of Information

The Company has implemented generally accepted standards of technology and operational security to protect personal data from loss or theft, unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use or modification, alteration, or destruction. Only authorized The Company personnel and third party service providers are provided access to personal data. These employees and service providers are required to treat this information as confidential. All access to our Services is encrypted using industry-standard transport layer security technology (“TLS”). When you enter sensitive information, we encrypt the transmission of that information using secure socket layer technology (“SSL”). We also use HTTP strict transport security to add an additional layer of protection. Despite these precautions, The Company cannot guarantee that unauthorized persons will not obtain access to your personal data.

10. Requesting your Personal Data

Where granted by local law, you may have the right to request access to the personal data that we have collected about you for the purposes of reviewing, modifying, or requesting deletion of the data. You may also have the right to request a copy of the personal data that we have collected about you and to have any inaccuracies in that data corrected. In certain circumstances, you may also request that we cease processing your personal data.

If you would like to make a request to access, review, or correct the personal data we have collected about you, or to discuss how we process your personal data, please contact us at info@thorium.com. To help protect your privacy and security, we will take reasonable steps to verify your identity, such as requiring a password and user ID, before granting access to your personal data. We will make reasonable attempts to promptly investigate, comply with, or otherwise respond to your requests as may be required by applicable law. Different laws may prevent us from providing access to your personal data or otherwise fully complying with your request depending upon the circumstances and the request, such as for example, where producing your information may reveal the identity of someone else.

We reserve the right to charge an appropriate fee for complying with your request where allowed by applicable law, and/or deny your requests where they may be manifestly unfounded, and/or excessive, or otherwise objectionable or unwarranted under applicable law.

In addition, and where granted by applicable law, you have the legal right to lodge a complaint with a competent data protection authority. You may also unsubscribe from mailing lists or any registrations with any of the Services by contacting us at the address provided at the bottom of this Privacy Policy.

11. Personal information relating to a child

The Company shall collect and process personal information relation to a child only when consent has been granted by the child's parent or legal guardian or where the processing is in the best interests of the child. For purposes of this clause a child means persons as defined in the applicable laws of that country.

12. Changes to our Privacy Policy

We reserve the right to make changes to this Privacy Policy at any time and for any reason. You will be informed of any amendments to this Privacy Policy. You should check this page occasionally to review any changes. If we make material changes affecting you as determined by Thorium we will notify you by posting the revised Privacy Policy on our website <https://Thorium.com/> and, if you are a registered user of our platform, by providing notice through the Company app or by email.

The amendments to the Privacy Policy shall take effect from the date of publication on the Company's website. You will be deemed to have been made aware of, will be subject to, and will be deemed to have accepted the changes in any revised Privacy Policy after the date such revised Privacy Policy is published on the Company website or when a notice is served through the app or by email.
